

BRANDON PERRY

Biography

“BFP!” Come to a show and you will hear it yelled from the crowd. You'll see it on stickers in the strangest places, and you will know the music when you hear it. It's Brandon F'n Perry! Welcome to the show. New Orleans born, Atlanta raised, with strong ties to a musical family in Texas, and influences from Johnny Cash to Dave Matthews, Brandon's musical background is as diverse as his heritage.

Playing about 150 shows a year, Brandon has honed his craft by sharing the stage with some of Atlanta's finest musicians, as well as supporting some great national acts. Brandon's music gets better every day, and it's ALL about the music. See Brandon put on a high-energy show with the full band, and soon you too, will be yelling “BFP!!!”

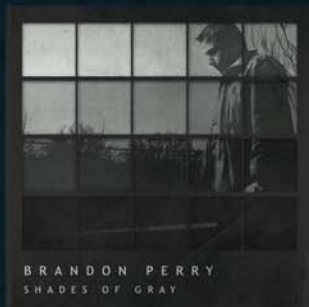

Brandon's latest release “Shades Of Gray” produced by John Driskell Hopkins of the Zac Brown Band, will not disappoint. Ranging from acoustic rock (I Don't Care, Table For One, Stranger) to a Texas-influenced country/Americana sound (When I Fall, Wrong Way) and tapping into something more soulful and poignant (The Gift, Last Call).

Be sure to check out Distracted, an EP (available online), containing a mix of upbeat pop rock (New Distraction) and ballads that hit home (Only Good Things, Silver State of Mind)
